

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.
A State Convention of delegates representing the Republican party of Wisconsin is hereby called to meet at Madison at 10 o'clock a. m., on Wednesday, July 23, A. D., 1879, for the purpose of nominating candidates for State officers to be elected at the next general election and to transact such other business as may be deemed appropriate.
Each Senate and each Assembly district of the State is entitled to two delegates in the Convention.
We also invite the Republicans of the State, and all who are sympathetic with the principles and policy of the Republican party, to attend a mass meeting to be held in the Capitol Park, in Madison, at 2 o'clock p. m., on Wednesday, July 23, for the purpose of appropriately celebrating the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the organization of the Republican party in Wisconsin. It is especially desired that as many as possible of those who participated at the meeting in July, 1854, will be present. Distinguished speakers from this meeting and other States will be secured to address the meeting.
HORACE RUBLEE, Chairman.

ASSEMBLY CONVENTIONS.
SECOND DISTRICT.
A Republican convention will be held at the Common Council Room, in the city of Janesville, on Saturday, July 19th, 1879, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention.
By order of Committee.
THIRD DISTRICT.
A Republican convention will be held at the Court House, in the city of Janesville, on Wednesday, July 16th, A. D. 1879, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention. The towns will be entitled to delegates as follows: Fulton, Milton, and Clinton five delegates each; Harmony, Johnston, Lima, Turtle, Porter three each; Bradford and La Prairie two each. By order of Assembly District Committee.
W. A. MAYHEW, Chairman.
Clinton, Wis., July 1st, 1879.

In answer to the report that he is a candidate for the United States Senate, Jeff Davis writes to a friend in Washington, saying, "You may contradict it positively and with authority." Davis' positive declaration is the only thing that will keep him out of the Senate.

The Darlington Republican, which is published by General Blunt & Son, has been enlarged to nine columns, which makes the paper assume almost a metropolitan form. Under the management of the General and his son Edward, the Republican has been made to show signs of much prosperity.

For the year ending June 30, 1879, there appears to be a great reduction in the number of steamboat accidents and the loss of life. In 1878 there were 47 accidents and 213 lives lost. In 1879 only 31 accidents and 105 deaths. In 1875, the loss of life reached 607, and in 1876, 394. This marked improvement in steamboat navigation is highly flattering to the steamboat inspection service.

The Milwaukee Sunday Telegraph, which professes not to be a Democratic paper, manages to get as far into the Democratic camp sometimes as the most outspoken Bourbon papers. In its last issue it says the "little quiet reforms which the Democrats desired, the Republicans denounced as revolutionary and rebellious." For an attempt to starve the government, to coerce the executive, to disarm the Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy, to make it impossible to protect the polls from fraud and violence, to trample under the constitution, "little quiet reforms," is pretty good. According to the theory of the Sunday Telegraph, the movement of the South in 1861, was nothing but a desire to inaugurate "little quiet reforms."

A report is going the rounds of the press that Confederate money is in large demand in some of the foreign countries, and that large quantities of it are being shipped to Europe. The New York Graphic is authoritative for the statement that during last week large demands have come from abroad for Confederate notes and bonds, and that there was shipped to England and France alone, over one million dollars in Confederate scrip. The ridiculous statement is made that a premium was paid for the money. The Graphic also says that a month ago a bale of Confederate money was sold in New York. This speculation in the notes and bonds of the defunct Confederacy, is caused by the ignorance of some foreigners who believe that some day the American Congress will redeem the notes. The Confederates have nearly unlimited cheek, and a Democratic Congress dare almost anything the Confederates demand, but it is idle to discuss the question of redeeming the notes issued by the Confederate government. If any one in this country or any other is purchasing Confederate scrip with the hope that some day there will be a Confederate administration, they will live to see the day when they will be convinced that they have been sorely duped.

"THE DEMOCRATIC DILEMMA."
The Democratic leaders in this State are all "tore up" on the question of what principles it is advisable to profess for the coming canvass.—Evening Wisconsin.
So are the Democratic leaders in other States "tore up." They are slow to organize for the fall campaign for the very plain reason that when they organize, they organize for defeat. They pushed things in Ohio, blundered in making a nomination for Governor, took up a "half-baked" Democrat only, a man full of windy fermentations of wild financial ideas, and the result is that discouragement has already overtaken the party in the Buckeye State, and Foster's election is set down as one of the certainties of the year. The most far-seeing leaders of the party in Ohio acknowledge their blunder, and are now preparing for "a spiritless march

SENATOR WINDOM.
Not a Candidate for the Presidency.
WASHINGTON, July 7.—Senator Windom laughs at the story that he is a candidate for the Presidency, or a dark horse ticket in the woods, to be trotted out at an opportune moment. He has many warm friends here who believe that as a candidate he would carry the Northwest solid in the Convention, and either get the nomination himself or dictate terms to others. He is very popular here, and is spoken of as having a perfect, straight and correct record.

OHIO CAMPAIGN.
Relating to the Movements of the Democratic Forces.
WASHINGTON, July 7.—Although J. G. Thompson was taken from the head of the Ohio Democratic Executive Committee and made Chairman of the Central Committee, to please Ewing and conciliate all concerned, his friends here say that he will be as big a boss of the Democratic party in Ohio as ever, and that he will, in effect, run both committees, by reason of being the most competent man to do it. His friends say, privately, that what he doesn't know about running a campaign isn't to be learned in this country.

A NOTABLE ADDRESS TO CONVICTS.
On the fourth of July ex-Governor Horatio Seymour, by special invitation, delivered an address to the convicts in Auburn penitentiary. The object of the address was to give the unfortunate inmates of Auburn encouragement to hope for better lives, and to impress upon their minds that the evil which men do may be transmuted into good. Mr. Seymour, while standing before three or four hundred men, convicted of all sorts of crimes—told them that his official duties while Governor of New York had enabled him to learn from experience with men in all conditions of life that none are without faults, and none, however low, are without virtues; and that the longer he lived, the better he thought of the hearts of men and the less of their heads. For many years Mr. Seymour has been interested in the welfare of the criminals in the New York prisons. He secured the enactment of a law which enables the prisoners, by good conduct, to shorten the term of their imprisonment, and he went so far as to recommend that they have a share in the profits of their labor while confined in the penitentiaries.

The chief point in the notable address of Mr. Seymour was that the inmates of Auburn, and of every other prison, could if they determined so to do, make better men of themselves than if they had never fallen into errors or crimes. His ground for this statement was that a man's destiny does not turn upon the fact of his doing or not doing wrong, for all men do that, but of how he bears himself, and what he does and what he thinks after the wrong act has been committed. He quoted Confucius, the Chinese sage, who said that a man's character is decided, not by the number of times he fails, but by the number of times he lifts himself up. By this line of argument ex-Governor Seymour endeavored to impress upon the minds of those terms of imprisonment were reasonably short, that when they were released they could become industrious men and useful citizens, and that the world would forgive them for their fall if they showed by their acts that they determined to wipe out the stain of guilt, and to transmute evil into good. This was a timely address, and possibly it may not have been delivered in vain. But it depends almost as much upon society as it does upon a criminal himself, whether or not he can rise to the dignity of an honest man and become a useful citizen after he leaves the prison. If he is shunned, and his services are not wanted, because he has just issued from the penitentiary, and no encouragement is given him to rebuild his manhood and reorganize his character, we doubt if human nature, especially in an ex-convict, is strong enough to stem the tide against such discouraging influences. To transmute the evil which Mr. Seymour spoke of—into good, requires the corporation of society, and without it, can scarcely any criminal show the golden threads which run through his character.

WHEAT MARKET.
MILWAUKEE, July 7.—The general markets were more active to-day, wheat being particularly buoyant. An advance of 2 to 2½ cents was made in the opening deals, and was maintained throughout with firmness. The wet weather of the past few days is regarded as the chief cause of the advance. Advice to-night from the North report much demand along the Mississippi Valley, and there is no likelihood that the gain in the prices to-day will be soon lost. The closing price for No 2 was $1.00½. Even an advance on that figure will probably characterize dealings in the morning.

A CURIOUS LAW.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 7.—In the Circuit Court to-day, Justice Field, of the Supreme Court of the United States, decided what is known as the Queue-Cutting ordinance as invalid, being in conflict with the Fourteenth amendment. This ordinance prescribed that the queues of the Chinamen imprisoned in the County Jail for petty offenses be cut off, and it was expected to prove a strong deterrent to that class of criminals.

POISONED.
LA CROSSE, July 7.—Dispatches from Lanesboro, Minn., to-day state that all of the sixteen persons who were poisoned on the Fourth of July are doing well, and supposed to be out of danger. No deaths have occurred.

FIRE.
MILWAUKEE, July 7.—Dispatches received here from Kaukauna, Outagamie County, state that the paper mill there was fired by lightning, and damaged $5,000.

PARDONED.
MILWAUKEE, July 7.—President Hayes has pardoned Frisch and Bierbach of this city, for their inroads on the revenue regulations governing the manufacture of liquor.

INCENDIARISM.
ST. PETERSBURG, July 7.—A fire at Irkutsk on the 4th burned 400 houses. The officials of Tula have received letters, threatening the burning of that town.

SOLD.

My practice is not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it. We do not tear down, make over to make well, no harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattery. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of chronic diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything, or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourselves; it will cost nothing as consultation is free.
